

I understand that if I request elements of Vedic Life coaching from Hearts Wide Open (HWO) that include Spiritual Coaching through the use of astrology components, the information and astrological interpretations received are not meant for diagnosis and treatment, and are primarily intended as tools for self-analysis, and thereby are for informational and entertainment purposes only. I hereby agree to fully release HWO from any and all liability with regard to any advice obtained through these means.

I agree that by purchasing these services, I hereby take full responsibility for any and all consequences for my actions, acted upon in my own free will, utilizing the information provided within the consultation from HWO and its practitioners.

HWO in no way suggests infallibility where astrological forecasts are concerned and therefore rescinds liability for any personal, business or health decision. For questions of a medical nature, please consult a doctor or medical professional. Financial or speculative queries should be referred to expert financial advisors.